

Risk Disclosure Statement

This Risk Disclosure Statement (hereinafter - the Statement) contains a list of the main risks related to trading in the foreign exchange market.

1. Margin Trading Risks

1. The Client shall be aware that the use of leverage can make them a considerable profit, as well as entail partial or complete loss of deposited funds, and shall assume such risks.
2. The Client shall be solely responsible for any losses incurred as a result of the chosen trading strategy.
3. The Company can provide additional information to the Clients using analytical materials and reviews on the Website or through other electronic communication channels. Materials are prepared by partners and staff analysts of the Company. Analytics and reviews describe current trends in financial markets. They should not be interpreted as direct instructions on particular transactions or guidance to action. All published or disclosed materials are subjective opinions of experts. The experts (the authors of the materials) express their own opinion on certain trends and make their own independent forecasts of the future market developments. The Client, at their own discretion, has the right to use analytical materials and be guided by them when trading, but neither the Company nor the authors are responsible for any losses caused by using such analytical materials.

2. Technical Risks

1. The Client shall be solely responsible for any losses incurred as a result of technical faults in software and telecommunications equipment.
2. The Client shall be solely responsible for any losses incurred as a result of improper use of the trading platform.
3. The Client shall be solely responsible for the security of the password to their Personal Area and trading account.
4. The Client shall assume the risks associated with non-encrypted transmission of information via email.

3. Force Majeure

1. The Client shall be solely responsible for any losses incurred as a result of force majeure (natural disasters, war, foreign interventions, etc.).